GENERAL MANAGER MESSAGE

Good leaders do not take on all the work themselves; neither do they take all the credit. All things are created twice; first mentally; then physically. The key to creativity is to begin with the end in mind, with a vision and a blue print of the desired result. Every moment is a golden one for him who has the vision to recognize it as such. It is not a question of how well each process works; the question is how well they all work together. Command authority naturally.

Possess quick shifting abilities, knowing what to note and what to ignore. Set, observe, and re-evaluate project priorities frequently. Ask good questions and listen to stakeholders. Do not use information as a weapon or a means of control. Adhere to predictable communication schedules Possess domain expertise in project management as applied to a particular field.
